GARBER.

The good rains that have come have helped things out wonderfully and we will have some corn.

The seed ticks and chiggers are also revived so that they take hold more savagely than is to the pleasure of most people, and many good walking sticks are being severely scared up by them.

Supt. Hickey of Aurora and Commercial Agent Arnett of Springfield spent a couple of days at Garber and Marble Cave last week.

Mr. Hunt, an old time acquaintance of W. H. Lynch, spent several days at Marble Cave last week with Mr. Lynch, leaving here for Chicago Monday.

W. L. Driver spent several days on his farm last week and has gone on a fishing trip for a few days, to return and remain until near the end of August. He will make some needed improvements while here.

Don W. Late, of Waco, Texas, came in Monday evening and is doing the "Shepherd of the Hills" country with Kodak and pencil.

Rev. Ralph Simonton was here and preached two good sermons to us Sunday, but Saturday night we had rain instead of meeting.

Many tourists are visiting the Hills now and it is hard to keep track of all their names.

Mrs. Geo. D. Hall of Notch attended church in Garber Sunday and Sunday night.

Frank Jones and Miss Pearl Vining were married at Galena last Friday evening. This takes away another Garber girl.

Rufus May has sold his farm to Monroe Watkins and don't know what to do with himself now.

Ben Fronabarger, a cousin of Will F., came Sunday for a few days visit and to get rid of the chills.

During the summer months mothers of young children should watch for any unnatural looseness of the bowels. When given prompt attention at this time serious trouble may be avoided. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy can always be depended upon. For sale by all dealers.

BRADLEYVILLE.

The rain Wednesday night and Thursday morning will help out the corn crop quite a bit.

Uncle Joe Dennis is reported quite sick.

Bart Barnes and his mother are up from Forsyth, visiting with Mrs. Wm. Reese.

Aunt Frankey Mosley has been on the sick list for several days.

Mrs. Bud Hicks has been quite ill but is reported better now.

William Miller of Nance visited his father-in-law, George Golder, the first of the week.

Akre Jackson is reported quite sick.

Henry Lawrence of St. Louis is visiting with relatives here this week.

Little Burl Susher has been very sick but is reported much better.

If you are a housewife you cannot reasonably hope to be healthy or beautiful by washing dishes, sweeping and doing housework all day, and crawling into bed dead tired at night. You must get out into the open air and sunlight. If you do this every day and keep your stomach and bowels in good order by taking Chamberlain's Tablets when needed, you should become both healthy and beautiful. For sale by all dealers.

Go to Wheelwright Hardware Co., Branson, for all kinds of hardware, furniture, harness, saddles, doors and windows, paint, Weber and Steel King wagons and farming tools.

NANCE.

School is progressing nicely. Frank Hodges and family have been visiting with relatives in Arkansas.

Abe Hawkins started on a business visit to Oklahoma where he owns property.

N. B. Bonner and Jim Wolf were County Seat visitors this week.

This place was visited by a nice shower the past week.

Pierce Hodges and Ernest Scott have been chasing foxes quite a bit lately.

Buy it now. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is almost certain to be needed before the summer is over. Buy it now and be prepared for such an emergency. For sale by all dealers.

GREENLEAF.

A good shower here this morning. W. H. Adams and wife were visitors here last week.

Arthur Fields is repairing the Beaver telephone line.

Wade Kelly and family were up from Taneyville last week and report everything dry down there.

Arthur Adams and James Maggard made a business trip to Forsyth by the way of Hilda.

Our school will begin Monday July 28 with Kilby Rozell at the throttle. Kilby is one among the few first grade teachers of the county.

U. G. Johnson and B. F. Hall preached an interesting sermon Sunday to a large crowd. Owing to the hot weather services were held in the grove.

Several hog and cattle buyers in these hills. Prices range from $4.50 to $5.00 for cattle and $5.50 to $6.00 for hogs.

Pastures are dried up but are looking better since the showers.

Wheat threshing was suspended for a few days. The boys tore up their old machine and have ordered a new one that will be here in a few days.

Dysentery is always serious and often a dangerous disease, but it can be cured. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has cured it even when malignant and epidemic. For sale by all dealers.

The Market Letter.

Kansas City Stock Yards, July 20.—Cattle receipts here last week were heaviest of the season, 49000 head, 16000 greater than corresponding week last year. Killer's efforts to depress prices were largely nullified by the presence of an extraordinary demand for stock cattle and feeders. Country buyers took 17000 cattle, and submitted to a rise of 25 to 60 cents at the same time. Same week last year they were satisfied with 7000 cattle. Middle and low grades of grass steers, including yearlings, declined 25 to 50 cents, but upper grades, good cows, and prime feeders held steady, calves 25 to 50 higher. Receipts to day 13000, market strong, except fed steers, which are barely steady. Quarantine cattle are 10 to 20 higher to-day, stockers and feeders are unevenly higher. Best Greenwood County grass steers are as high to-day as any time last week, at $7.80 to $8.25; lighter steers from that section, and Westerns from the Brookville district are selling at $7.10 to $7.45. Prime Missouri grass and corn steers to day $8.50 to $8.85. Old Mexico steers grazed in Eastern Colorado brought $5.05, cows $4.85, and a car of 113 pound calves $8.00. Quarantine receipts only 42 cars to day, steers at $5.60 to $6.85. Stock steers run from $5.25 to $7.75, feeders $7.00 to $8.10. Additional showers around the circle last two days have postponed necessity to move cattle account of drouth, improved the outlook for Kansas and Oklahoma corn, and a most insured the Missouri and Iowa crops. Normal marketing of cattle will rule for a time. Hog receipts are in drouth, though larger than a year ago. Prices hover around $9.00, and dealers can see nothing that will cause declines. Packers' needs are urgent, and the East is ravenous for fresh pork. Lard demands will be greater than usual this fall, with extremely light stocks in packing houses now. Receipts 5090 here to day, market strong, top $9.05, bulk $8.90 to $9.00. Sheep and lambs advanced 40 to 65 cents last week, and commission men say prices will stay up. Lambs are lower to day, tops $7.75, and ewes sell around $4.50. Nevada weathers brought $5.25 last week.

For soreness of the muscles, whether induced by violent exercise or injury, there is nothing better than Chamberlain's Liniment. This liniment also relieves rheumatic pains. For sale by all dealers.

A company was organized here this week with a paid up capital of six hundred dollars to outfit fishing and camping parties on the river. It is intended to make a permanent camp at this place and to have boats, tents, cots, cooking outfits, etc., and to furnish good, competent guides to take care of the parties who wish to make a float down the river. The permanent camp will be made on the river, probably at the mouth of Swan creek, where there is good high ground with plenty of shade, and to put up tents or possibly portable houses that can be rented to those who simply want to camp and fish around here. This is a good proposition and is something that has been needed here for some time. There is no question of the desirability of Forsyth as an outing place, and as soon as it becomes known that such accommodations can be had here there will be a great increase in the number of summer visitors. There is no town in the state as favorably situated as Forsyth for a thing of this kind.

In Memory.

Little Katherine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Bailey, died at the home of Mrs. Bailey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Stokes, July 23, 1913, aged 8 months.

For ten weeks she has been a great sufferer, and loving hands did all they could to stay the hand of death; but God knew best and he reached down and plucked the rose from the mother's breast and the father's heart. They have lost a precious jewel but heaven has gained a jewel rare. God holds for you your treasure and you may have her again in eternity. You have with you the sweet memory of your darling. Though God has taken her he has left the memory which can never leave you.

"Such a little break in the sod!
So tiny to be a grave! [God
Oh! why must we render so soon to
The beautiful gift that he gave?"
"Why must we put away our pet—
Our tender bud unblown,
With the dew of the morning upon her yet,
And her blossom all unblown?"
"Yet 'tis a weary word, at best,
This world that she will not know.
Would we waken her out of such perfect rest
For it's sorrow and strife? Ah, no!"
"Escaped are its thorns and harms.
The only path she has trod
Is that which leads from a mother's arms
Into the arms of God." A FRIEND.

FIRST PARALYZE THEIR PREY

Wasps and Beetles Known to Administer Anesthetics to Their Victims Before Killing Them.

That the sting of the wasp which punctures the nerve centers of a captured caterpillar or spider usually paralyzes the creature into helplessness, rather than kills it, is well known. The victim remains alive in the burrow or cell in which the wasp stores it as food for the larva which will emerge from the egg laid in the same cell. Therefore the newly-hatched grub finds ready for it a provision of living meat instead of decayed carrion.

That "wizard" among entomologists, the venerable Fabre, has discovered a similar, yet even more extraordinary fact, in the history of the glow-worm beetle (lampyris); namely, that it anesthetizes the prey upon which it itself feeds, so that it may consume it at leisure, and predigest. This beetle, whose brilliant phosphorescence attracts the eye in the dusk of summer evenings, habitually hunts and seizes upon a certain small snail in order to eat it. The curious thing is that the beetle anesthetizes the mollusk at the first attack, preventing it from escaping by withdrawing to safety deep within its shell. Upon finding the snail, the beetle dashes forward, and thrusting out its sharp, curved mandibles, repeatedly stabs the side of the body of its prey. After a few punctures the snail becomes insensible and remains in that deadened state for three or four hours—a time more than sufficient for the beetle to complete its meal.

Trouble at the Crossin'.
"Hullo, Cyrus. How's things over to th' Crossin'?"
"Pretty dumberous. We got a race war on."
"No!"
"Yep. Couple o' Swedes from Wisconsin started a market garden on th' north rd."
"Well?"
"The board o' selectmen held a meetin' right away an' passed a anti-alien act."
"Well, well!"
"Yep. Peleg Brown has writ to Gov. Johnson of California, askin' how to enforce it. An' ever'body in town is wonderin'."
"Wonderin' what?"
"Ef Sweden is goin' to declare war."

After the Bad Fit.

Alfred was having one of his bay days, and upon coming to the table began to cry. He was sent to the kitchen to wait until the family had finished.

Several minutes afterward, when the incident was forgotten by all but small Alfred, the kitchen door opened softly and a small red head and a pair of dancing eyes, but a very serious little face, was thrust into the dining room, while a very pathetic little voice said: "Anybody here call Alfred?—Woman's Home Companion.

Feline Query.
"Nursie!"
Little Freddie's voice broke the twilight stillness of the nursery for the twentieth time, and "nursie" began to get angry.
"Well, what do you want now?" she snapped.
"I only want to ask you—"
"If answer no more questions this night" said nurse firmly, as she went on folding her charge's clothes. "Don't you know that curiosity killed a cat, Freddie?"

The small boy lay in silence, stunned by the wonder of this statement. Then he burst out again:
"Nursie, what did that cat want to know?"

Virus Slaughters Rabbits.

Rabbits took possession of the cemetery at Rouen, France, and ate up all plants and flowers as fast as they were placed upon the graves. The keepers called in hunters with ferrets, but the burrows were almost straight down, so the ferrets could do nothing. Then some of the virus used in Australia when the rabbits became a pest was obtained. Dr. Loir of the Rouen board of health inoculated several rabbits with it and turned them loose in the cemetery. Eight days later there were no rabbits in the cemetery. All had died in their burrows.

Poet Not Used to Society.
James Hogg, poet, known as the "Ettrick shepherd," was never quite lappy away from the fields. Sir Walter Scott made a friend of him, but he was not a social success. "In a shepherd's dress," writes a historian, "and with hands fresh from sheep shearing, he came to dine for the first time with Scott in Castle street, and, finding Mrs. Scott lying on the sofa, immediately stretched himself at full length on another sofa; for, as he afterward explained, 'I thought I could not do better than imitate the lady of the house.' At dinner, as the wine passed, he advanced from 'Mr. Scott' to 'Shirra' (sheriff), 'Scott,' 'Walter,' and finally 'Wattie,' till at supper he convulsed every one by addressing Mrs. Scott familiarly as 'Charlotte.'"

Welsh Descended From Noah.
The smaller a nation the longer the pedigree of the native. Thus every Scotsman of decent lineage is descended from the Bruce, every Irishman from the Red Kings and every Welshman from Noah. The last claim has been made for the family of the late Lord Tredegar. Cox, writing in 1800, when touring in Monmouthshire, wrote that "fanciful genealogists derived the origin of the Morgans from the third son of Noah," but that there was a division of opinion in favor of the first.
